The undersigned writers, one of whom is a production executive* and the other of whom is not, executed an Application to Collaborate and shall receive a joint credit on the above-referenced project in accordance with a waiver of the Theatrical and Television Basic Agreement.

We hereby certify that:

1. As compensation for their writing services on the aforesaid episode, Company attests that the undersigned Non-production Executive writer has been paid by Company no less than the applicable minimum compensation set forth in the Theatrical and Television Basic Agreement ("MBA") plus $250.00 in the case of a 30-minute program or $500.00 in the case of a 60-minute program. The total paid to the Non-production Executive is $ _____.
2. Our collaboration was a bona fide head-to-head collaboration in which we did our writing together. There is no separable material and we will be credited as a team, with an ampersand (&) between our names.
3. The Company and the undersigned Production Executive writer understand and agrees that if any statement contained herein is false, or payment is not made in accordance with Paragraph 1 above, the Production Executive Writer will not be entitled to any writing credit, residuals, or other benefit of writing credit on the aforesaid episode and agrees that, in addition to losing their right to such credit, residuals, and benefits, they will pay as a fine to the Guild a sum equal to the monies they would otherwise have received as residuals for the aforesaid assignment.
4. The undersigned Non-production Executive writer understands and agrees that if any statement contained herein is false they will forfeit as a fine to the Guild any monies they would otherwise have received as residuals for the aforesaid assignment.

The foregoing is a true and accurate statement, made of our own free will and volition.
